Incipit: Omnis sapientia a domino deo est et cum illo fuit semper et est ante evum. Arenam [added: eum] maris et pluvie guttas et dies seculi quis dinumeravit

Notes: Beginning of the first reading at matins for the Sundays in August. The musical notation is for the response to the second reading for these same Sundays in August: //[[flucti]bus maris ambulavi in omni gente . . . in omni populo primatum tenui. Super[borum]//. On the reverse, in the left column, prose only (Ecclesiasticus 1:22-26): //[Co]rona sapientie timor domini replens pacem et salutis fructum et vidit et dinumeravit eam. Utraque autem sunt dona dei scientiam et intellectum, prudentie sapientia compartietur et gloriam tenentium se exaltat. Radix sapientie est timere deum, rami enim illius longevi. In thesauris sapientie intellectus et sciencie religio[sitas]//. In the right column, one line of prose (Ecclesiasticus 1:39-40), and the rest is the response (with musical notation): //tua et in medio sinagoge elidat te quoniam accessisti maligne ad dominum et cor tuum plenum dolo et fallacia. Resp., Domine pater et deus vite//.
